

Management Systems: Consultancy >>

All companies are required by law to have a suitable management system for health and safety.

Many, adopt recognised systems such as ISO9001 (quality), ISO14001 (environment), and ISO45001 (health and safety) standards. These ensuring a robust externally verified arrangements to meet business and customer expectations.

Whether you are planning to introduce an externally verified standard, or develop your own management arrangements, TOWER can support you.

We provide a cost effective alternative to accreditation bodies during the critical preparation phase. Taking you step by step through the process

And, if accreditation is right for your business, we can also provide routine external assessment to ensure your arrangements meet both legal and your own internal standards.

All TOWER's consultancy service begin with an initial free consultation, from which a detailed proposal setting out your particular requirements. We will help you identify the best options and how we will address them. This ensures our clients get what they need, and don't pay for what they don't.
